September 2009

Dear LAG Members:

Your membership renewal fee for 2010 is due.

This is also a good time for me to double check and update your information in the LAG membership list. The membership list is our primary source of addresses, phone numbers, email, etc. to keep you up to date on LAG news and events. However, if your information is inaccurate, then that list is not very useful. Please send your current information, even if you think we have it all, on the form so I can update your file if necessary, and track payment.

This is a volunteer staffed organization. I cannot emphasize enough the importance of volunteers in all areas of the Louisville Artisans Guild. We need help in everything from chairing committees to help with mailings and newsletters. The following is a very small list of duties we need assistance with. If you are interested in an area not listed, tell us about it! Are you looking for a way to increase your visibility as a skilled artisan? Members who volunteer some of their time for the Guild have the privilege of displaying their work in the LAG Office in the Mellwood Arts and Entertainment Center for a month's time.

- Serve on a committee – the Annual Show and Holiday Showcase don't just materialize: it takes a lot of hard work from the Fair Committee and Annual Show Committee.
- LAG has a booth at Kentucky Crafted, The Market – duties range from sitting at the booth for 3 to 4 hours selling raffle tickets and handing out LAG flyers to prospective members, to helping set up or tear down the booth.
- LAG provides a scholarship for student artists – there is work involved in raising the funds for this worthy endeavor.
- If you are a juried member, are you willing to give a few hours of a Saturday to helping with the jury process for others?
- Do you have any ideas to bring more people to our shows? Inexpensive please. E-mail suggestions to Phyllis Minnery at pminnery@insightbb.com. Please put LAG in tag line.

Your membership fee for 2010 is due by Dec 28. Single membership is $35, household membership is $50. Dues not paid by January 31 will cause your membership status to lapse.

Reminder, the Louisville Artisans Guild is a 501 c3 non-profit organization, and your dues are tax deductible.

Please mail your check and the completed update form to:
